General Notes. J. L. Burton of Abilene was a visitor in the city yesterday.

The Las Vegas Stock Grower and Farmer, speaking of New Mexico, says: Nearly all cattle feeders are borrowers, and none will be able to secure money these tight times to buy anything but first-class stock, even though there be a large corn Top.

H. W. Bedford, a cattleman of Knox county, returned from this city to his ranch yesterday. Very few cattle buyers in the Southwes now, and the few here are looking for good grades for feeders. Every sign of the times oints the finger of scorn at the scrub, and there is no place where he is in it .- [Stock Grower and Farmer.

A Texas steer, which was being loaded at A fexas steer, which was being loaded at the Missouri. Kansas and Texas stockyards, at Parsons, Kan., a few days ago, had such long horns that they became wedged between the sides of the chutes and held him fast. In order to extricate him, the ends of his house head. his horns had to be sawed off.

Capt. H. R. Martin has retuned to Com-ance from his ranch in New Mexico, and says he shipped between five hundred and six hundred beeves to Kansas, to graze on the fine grass there awhile before he shipped them to market.

Yesterday was a prefty lively day at the Union stockyards. Several trains of cattle and a number of hogs were handled. Not withstanding it was conceded to be the hottest day of the season, the boys were willing to get out and hustle for variety's sake.

Secretary Wardlaw and Superintendent Butz of the Union yards, together with the commission men and employes, want the general public to understand that they kick against being classed among the "hard lot" that infest the surroundings sometimes, es-pecially at night, and further state "we are all nice people and retire early."

The Home Market.

The following livestock was weighed in at the Union yards yesterday. Two trains of cattle were handled for Purcell, I. T., where they will be unloaded and put on Cattle on the Strip.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Acting Secretary Chandler's attention was to-day called to a published statement from Caldwell, Kan., to the effect that at a meeting of cattlemen and leading Cherokee Indians, held there yesterday, it was arranged that 500,000 of the cattle now grazing on the Cherokee strip should be temporarily transferred by the whites, their owners, to individual In-dians, thus avoiding the president's recent peremptory order of removal. Judge Chandler stated that such transfer would inquestionably be regarded as an evasion of the president's order and would not be
